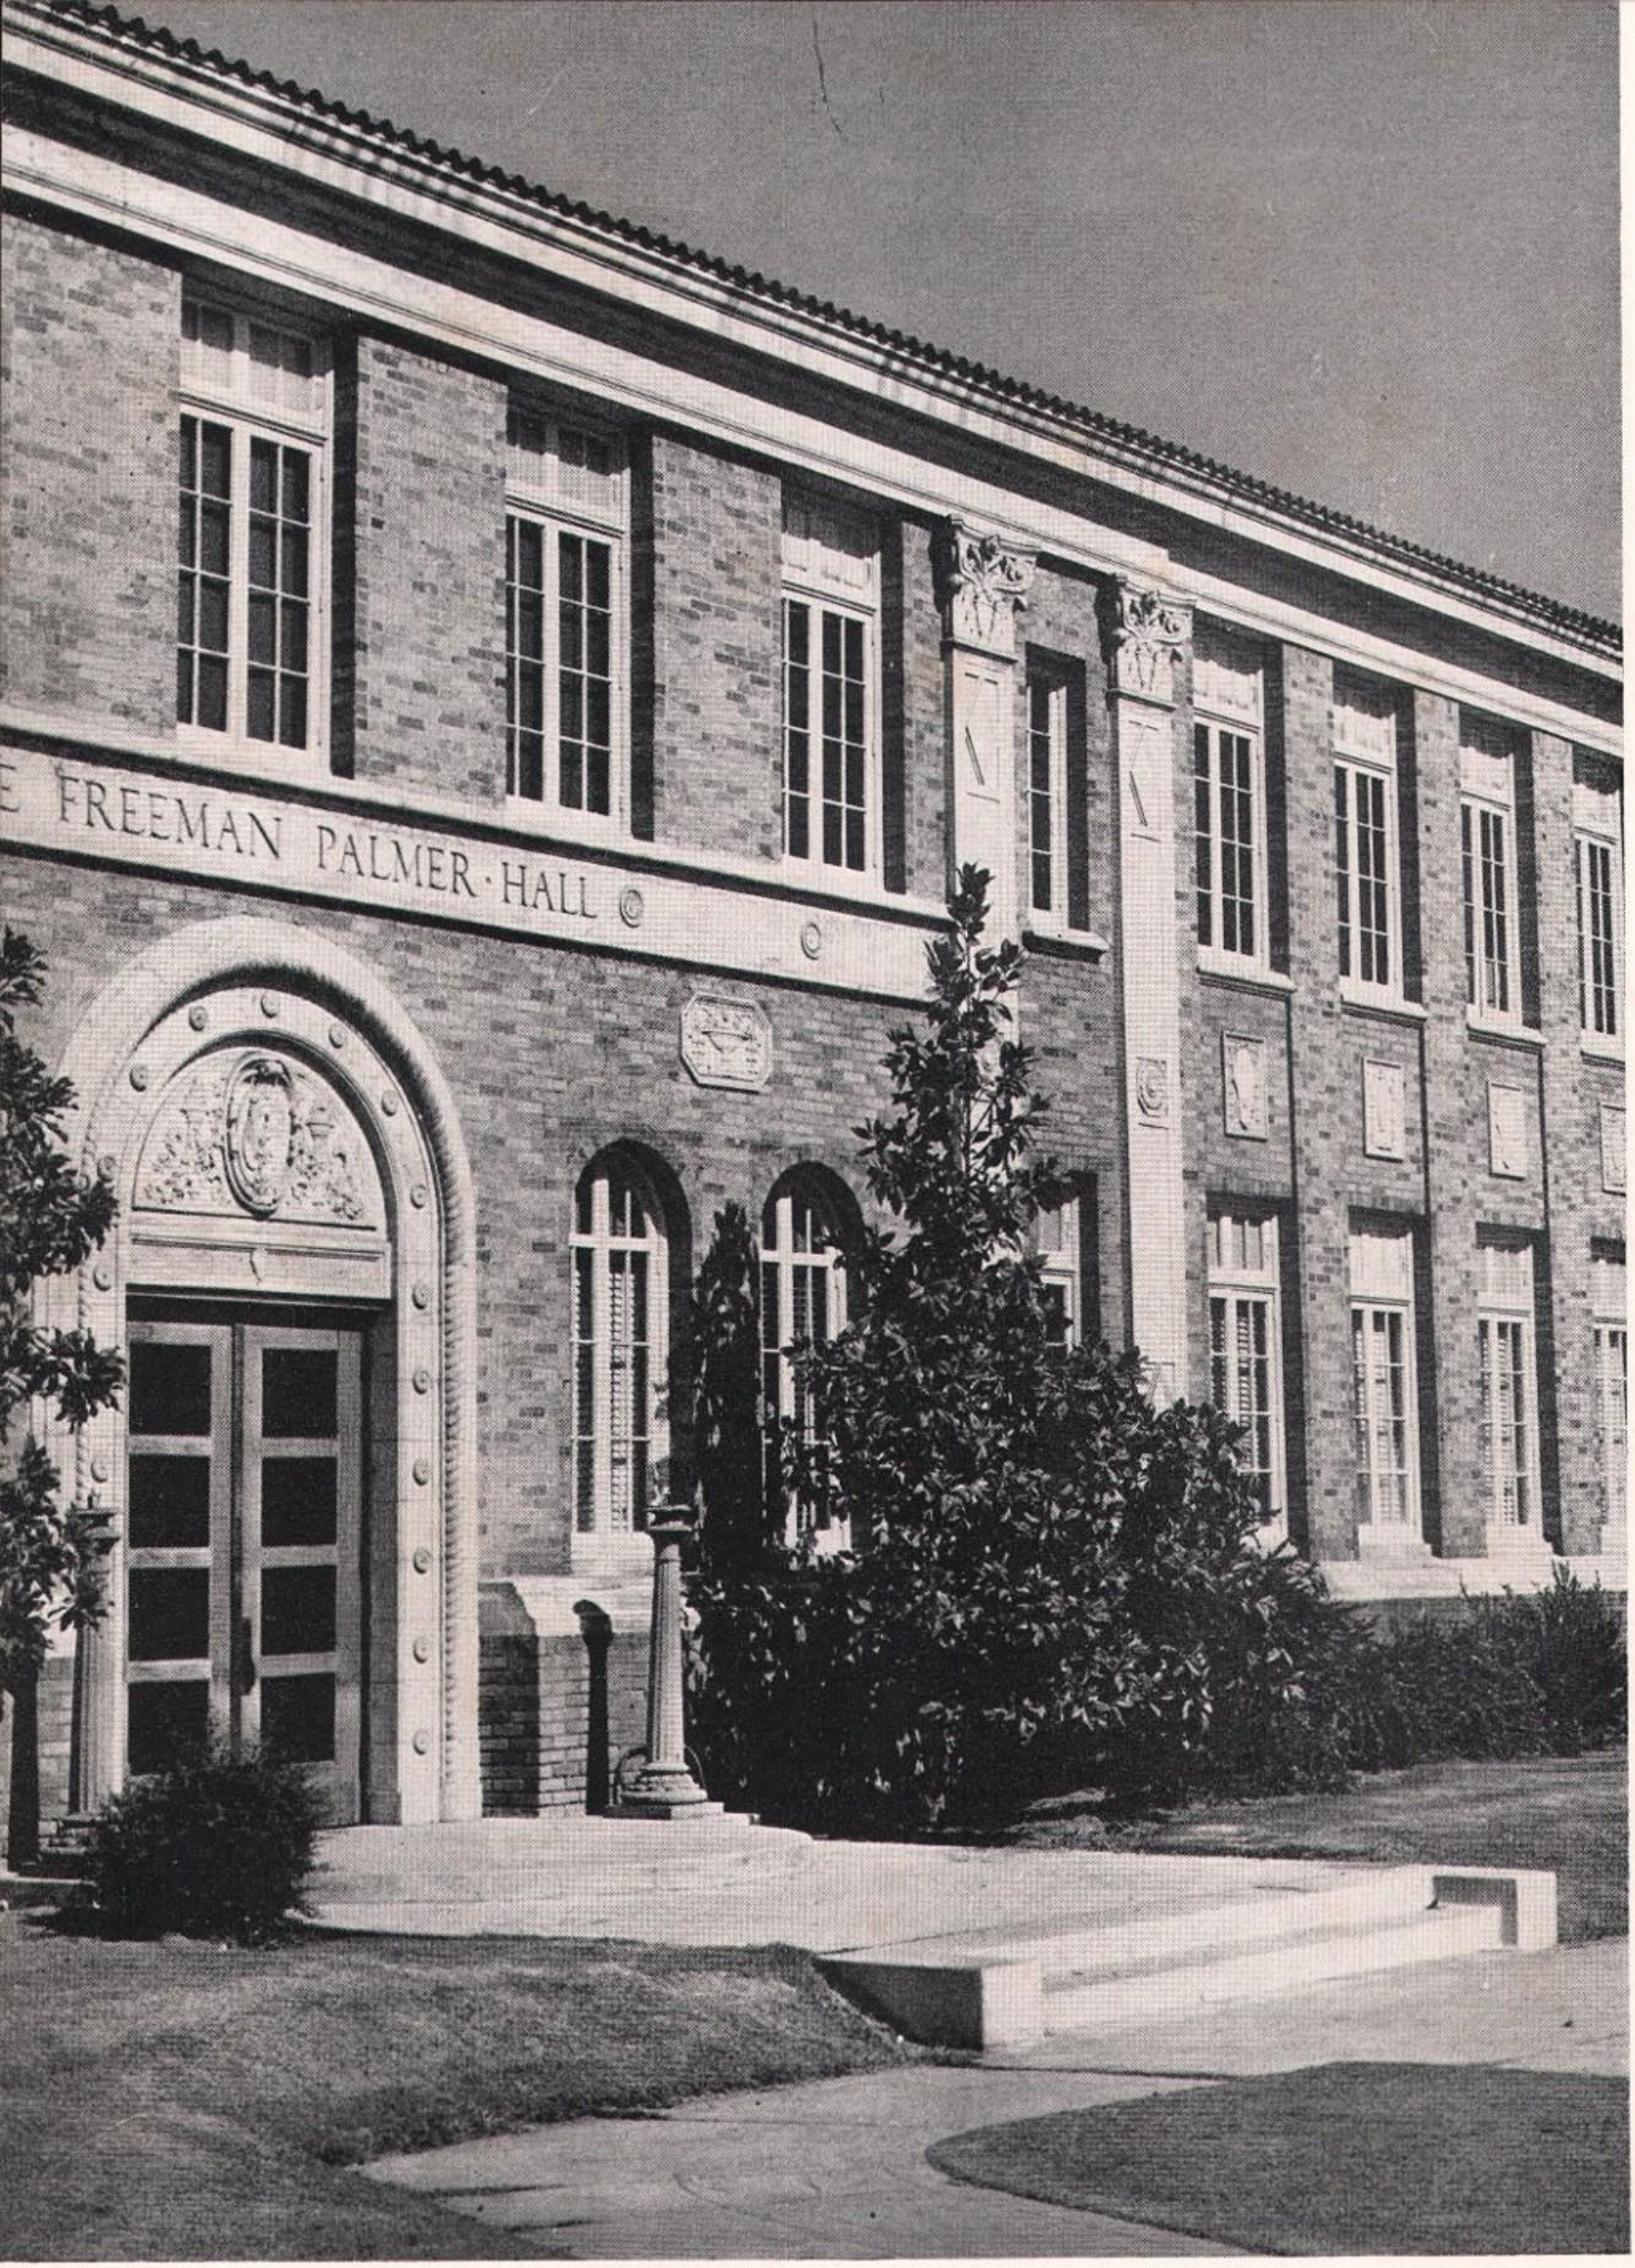
Gracious portals widely flung
In unfeigned hospitality;

May each entrant find within
Inspiration, friends—content.

Enter these doors of classic mold
With graceful boughs so greenly framed,

For here the mysteries of life are told
Which, once well learned need ne'er be feigned.



"Art is long, and time is fleeting"—
To quote the line is hardly cheating!

Within these walls all beauty lies,
For eyes and ears—and tongue likewise!

Here, 'neath this whispering, fragrant tree,
Oft at noon full length I lay
Dreaming dreams I may not share;
For Life may chide the heart laid bare.

FOREWORD

The staff of the 1952 Owl has endeavored to bring to you all the Warrior achievements for the year. If, at some future time, you may chance to browse through these pages and are reminded of the pleasant memories of our days at Fresno High, our aim will be happily realized.

Ward Zelbst

EDITOR

Dedication

For the honor he has brought to the School of Champions both as a Warrior and a chief,

For the excellent debate teams bringing glory to Fresno High under his tutelage,

For his leadership as sponsor of the Senate,

For his sympathy and understanding of student problems as class sponsor,

For establishing a splendid system of financing the Owl,

We, the students of Fresno High, affectionately dedicate this 1952 issue of the Owl to

SPEECH

KEITH JEWELL, president of the Fresno High School Chapter of the National Forensic League is an excellent speaker, and he has won many speech honors. HOWARD STREIFFORD, an excellent debater, won first place honors in A division debate at Oakland High School Speech Tournament.

OWLET

For a wonderful paper, we give our thanks to CAROLYN POWELL, NINA THORPE, and BOBBYE CRAWFORD. Whenever news broke, Carolyn was on the job to cover the story. Nina had a big job as typist, and she also kept the books straight. Bobbye has worked hard on the paper and has displayed her splendid leadership.

SCHOLARSHIP

There are three types of California Scholastic Federation members. The first type fits CLYDE WORKMON, who consistently makes C.S.F., but because he is an athlete he takes little part in club activities. MARTIN TEMPLE, who holds offices and makes many club decisions, represents the second type. The third type is represented by MARGARET SULLIVAN who serves on committees, tutors failing students, and always comes to meetings. Each one represents the kind of citizenship and service C.S.F. represents and solicits.

OWL BUSINESS STAFF

The credit for financing the 1952 Owl is given to MARILYN CHRISTENSEN, sales manager, and ALBERTA STEINHAUER, room salesman. They are very reliable and willing to work. They always devote extra time to their work on the Owl.

BAND

HARRIET SAPPENFIELD, piccolo and flute section leader for two years, JIM CROOKHAM, baritone section leader for three years, and RAY RICHARDSON, drum major this year, have all played in the Fresno High School Band for four years and have held offices in this organization.

ART

ROXIE BELL, an intelligent, talented, and reliable girl, has worked on the Owl Art Staff for two years. Working along with her were CLIFF ROYSTON and MABEL PETERSON. Mabel has done excellent work in costume design and painting. Cliff did the lining sheets and the pencil work for the 1952 Owl.

FOOTBALL

BRUCE RANKIN was named outstanding player for the season and was known as the best tackler on the squad. DICK McCOY, center, played in a tough position, but could always be counted on for excellent defensive play. A fast man and the best open field blocker on the team was GEORGE MACE.

OWL

Many Fresno High Warriors have had the pleasure of being snapped by WARD ZELHART'S camera during his three years on the staff. Ward climaxed his work by winning the post of editor in his senior year. ALLEN WHEPLEY joined the staff of the '52 Owl as cameraman. He has done a difficult assignment very well. DONNA RYAN, the efficient typist with a smile, has been very valuable as assistant editor and typist.

Tom Hyde, Red Cross boy of the year.

Katrine Currie, queen of the football carnival.

Bruce Rankin winner of the Harry Coffee football award.

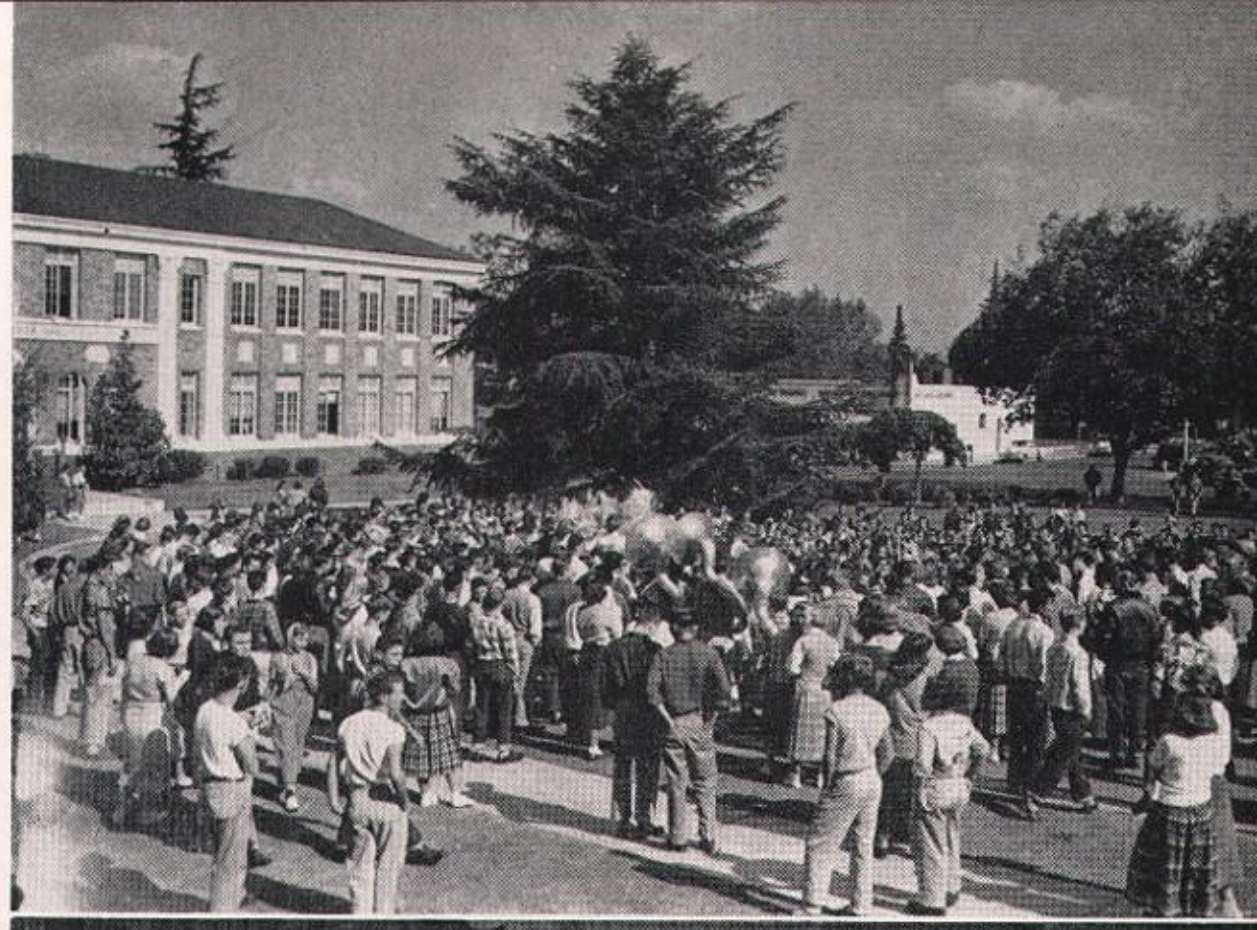
Fresno High boasts a varied program of social activities. Many students enjoy the dances, some formal, others the sock-hop variety.

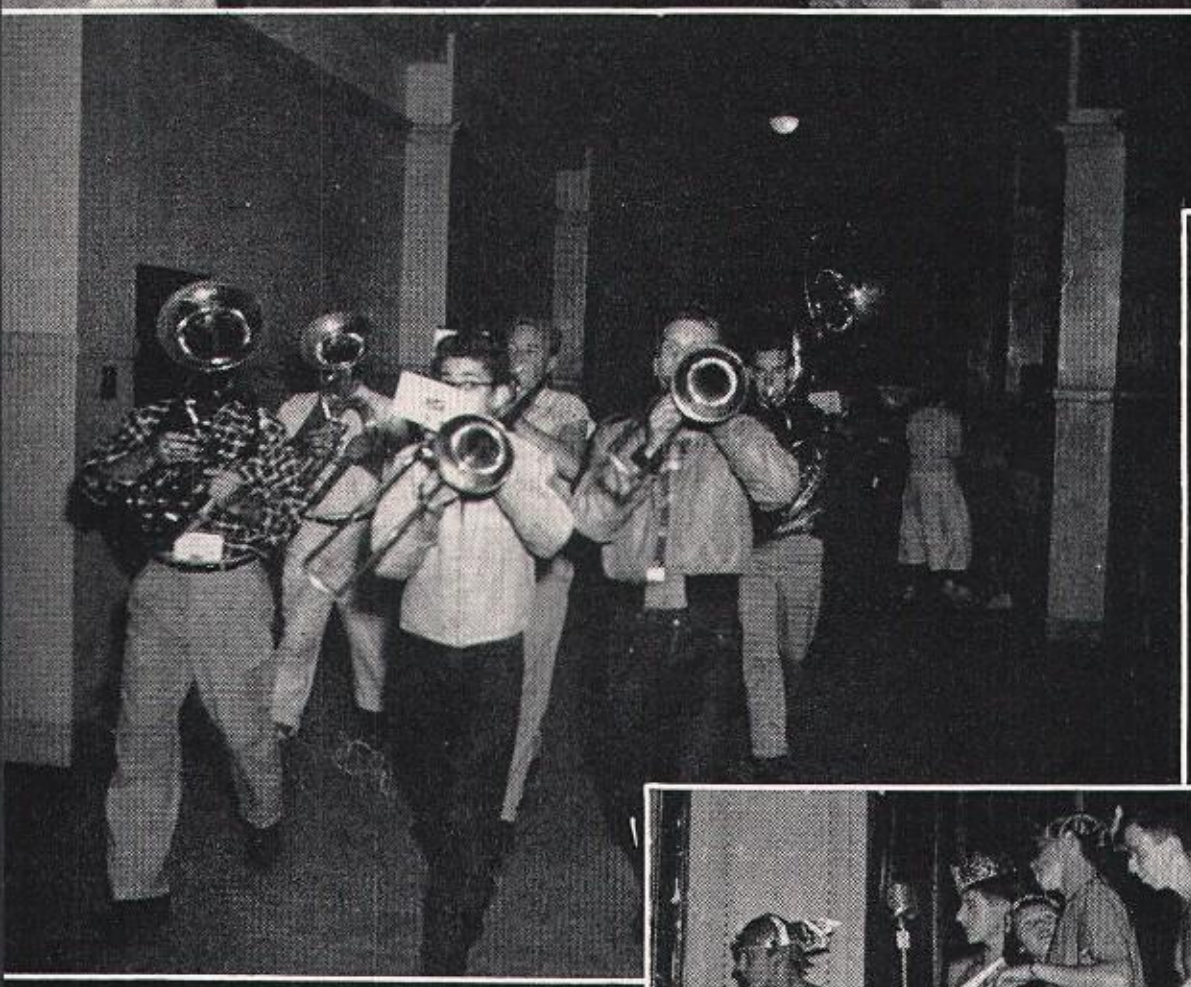
The Boosters Club does many things for the school each year. One of the big events of the year is the football banquet to which all pigskin Warriors are invited.

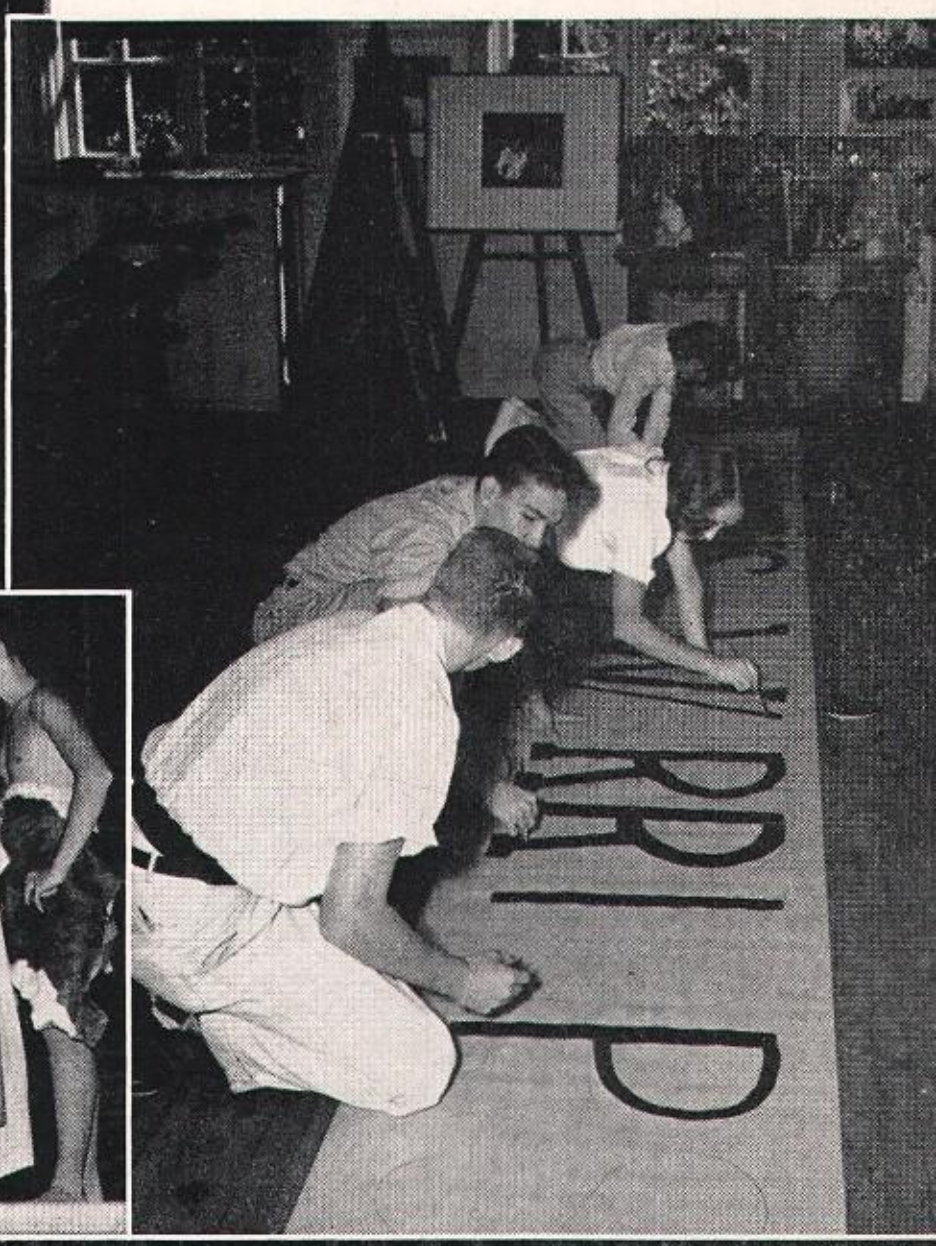
With the gymnasium transformed into a bower of beauty, the juniors and seniors dance away the night at the Junior-Senior Prom, the highlight of the year.

Besides putting on dances for the students, the P.-T.A. helps the students in many ways. These shots are taken at their carnival where members enjoyed good food, cards, and stunts.

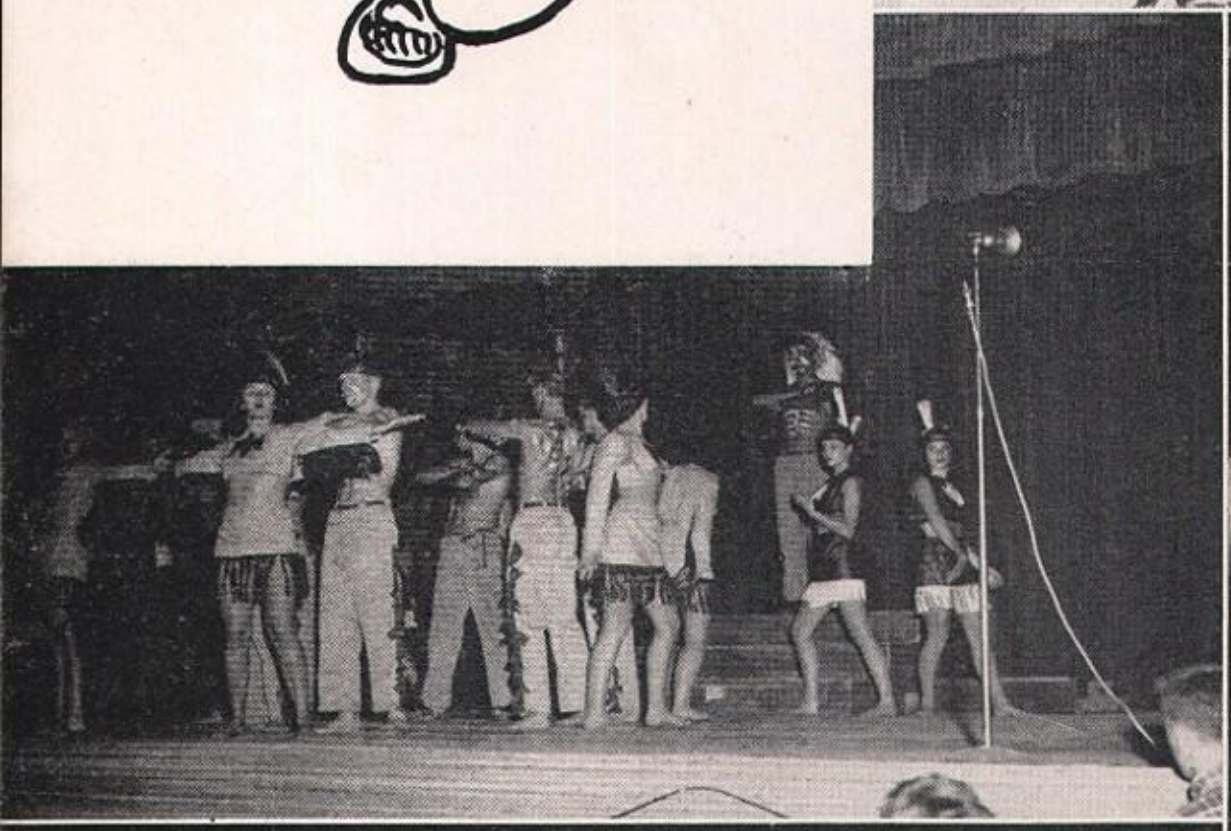


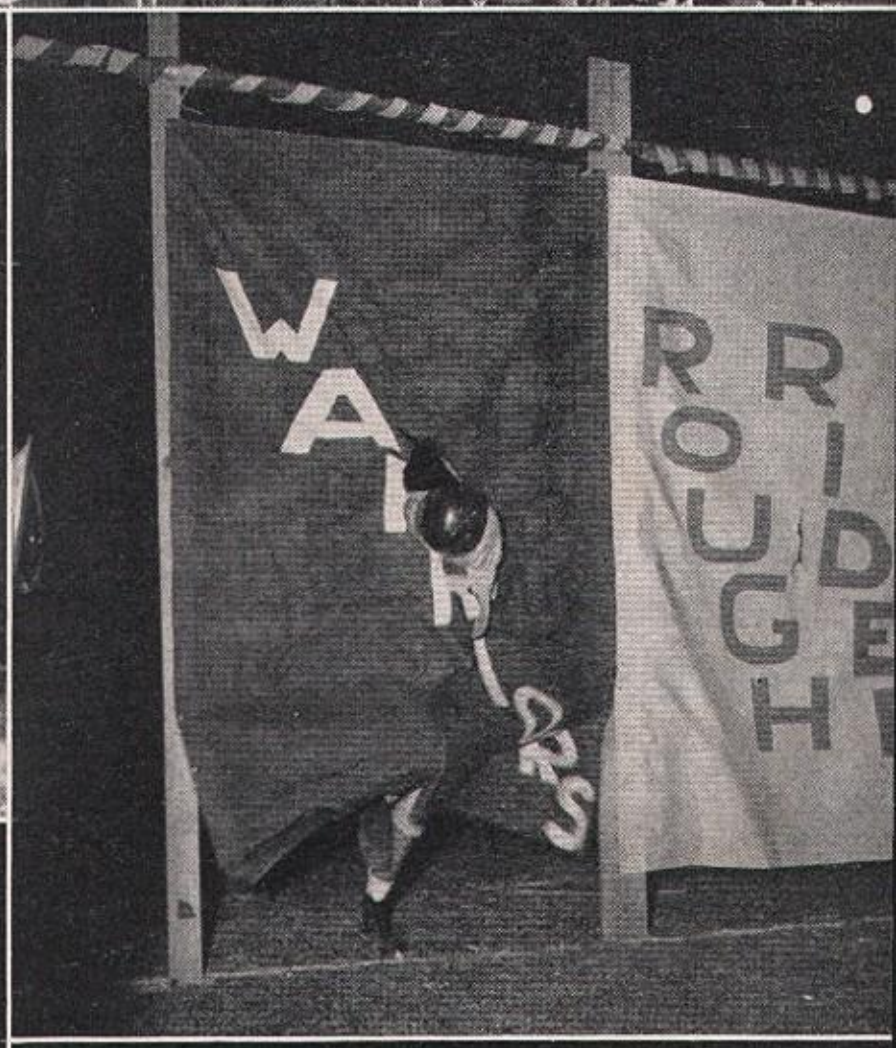
Rip-roaring rallies, chorus lines of beautiful girls, and parading majorettes are a few of the exciting activities on the Fresno High Campus.

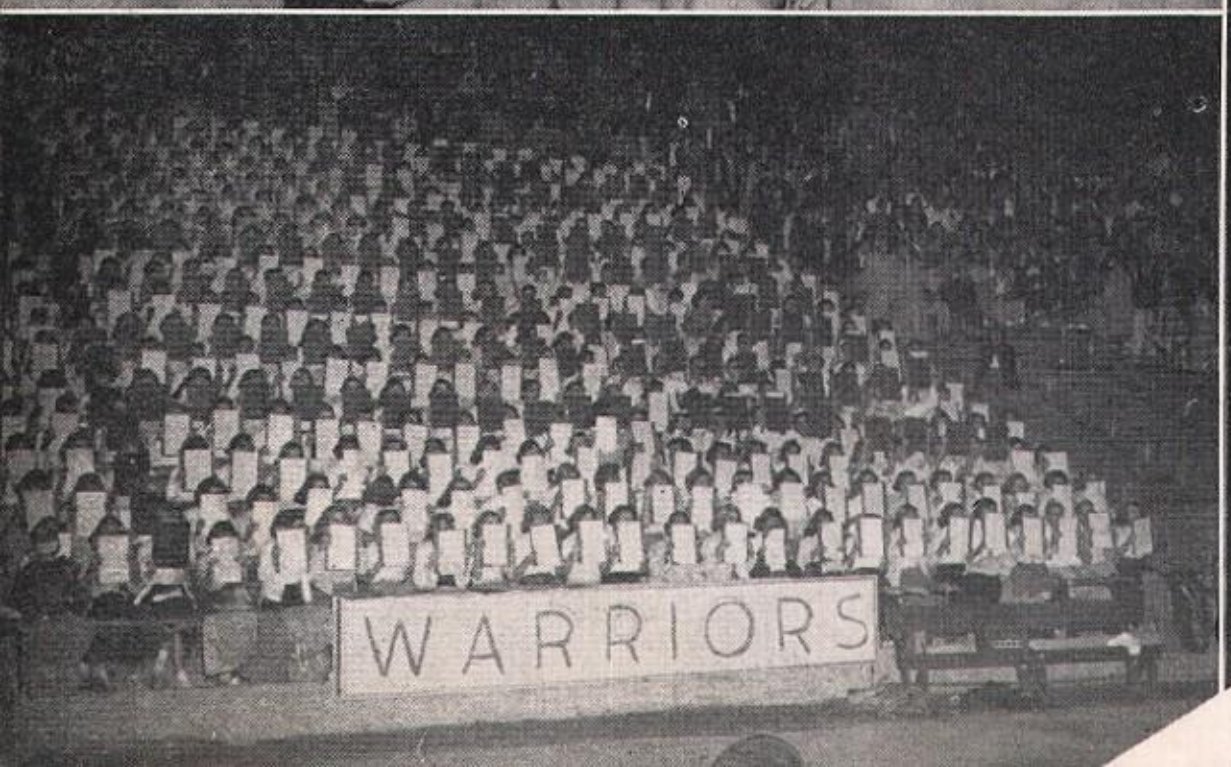


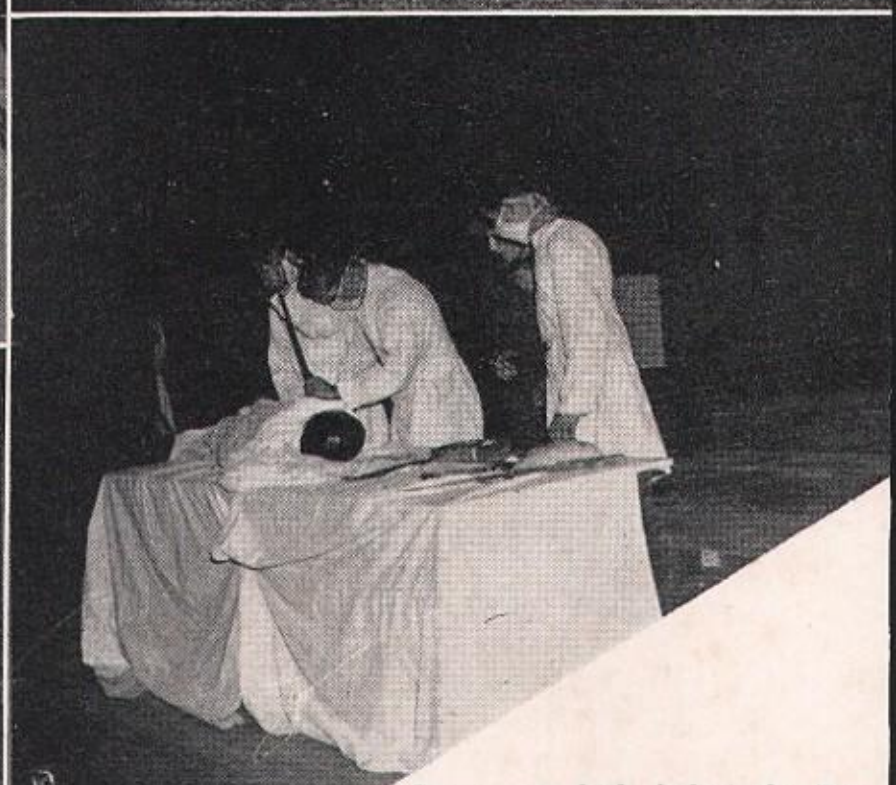


ueen Katrine waves to admirers the Football Carnival. The band ads off at a noon rally while yell aders and actors whip up pep for e big night.

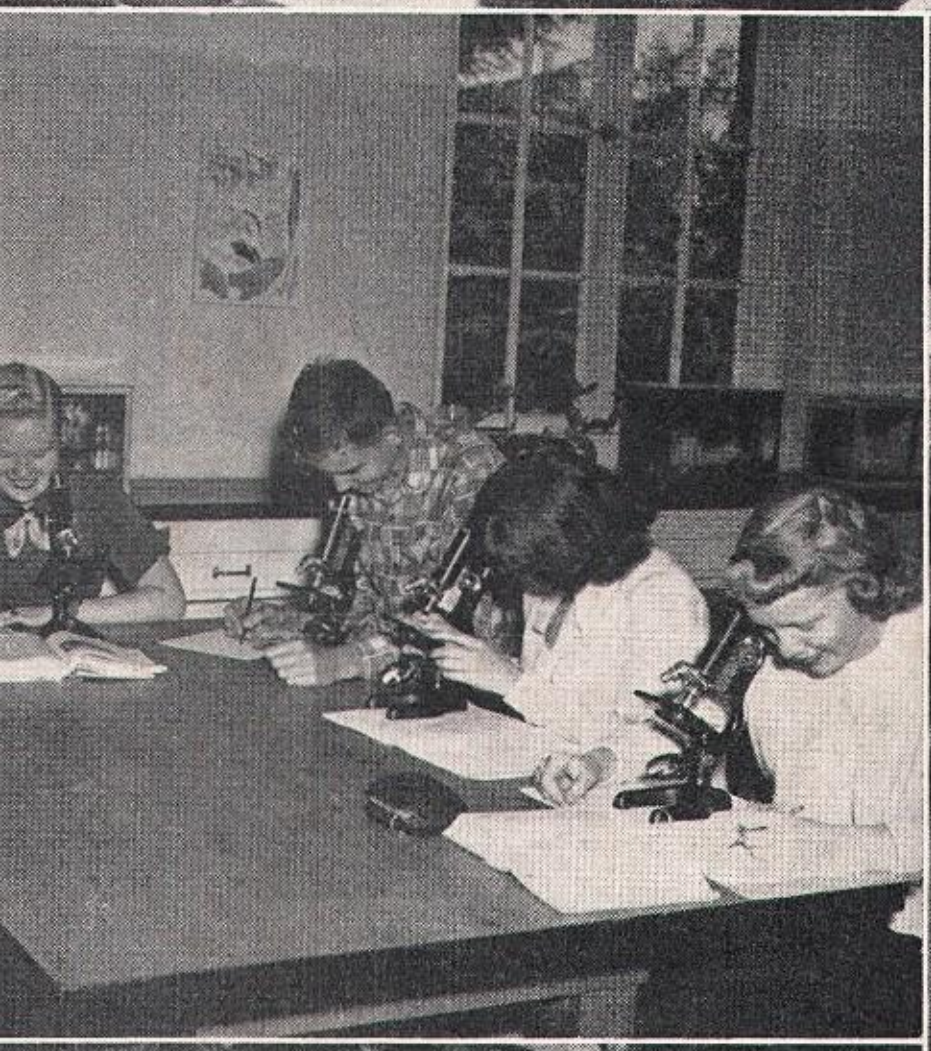




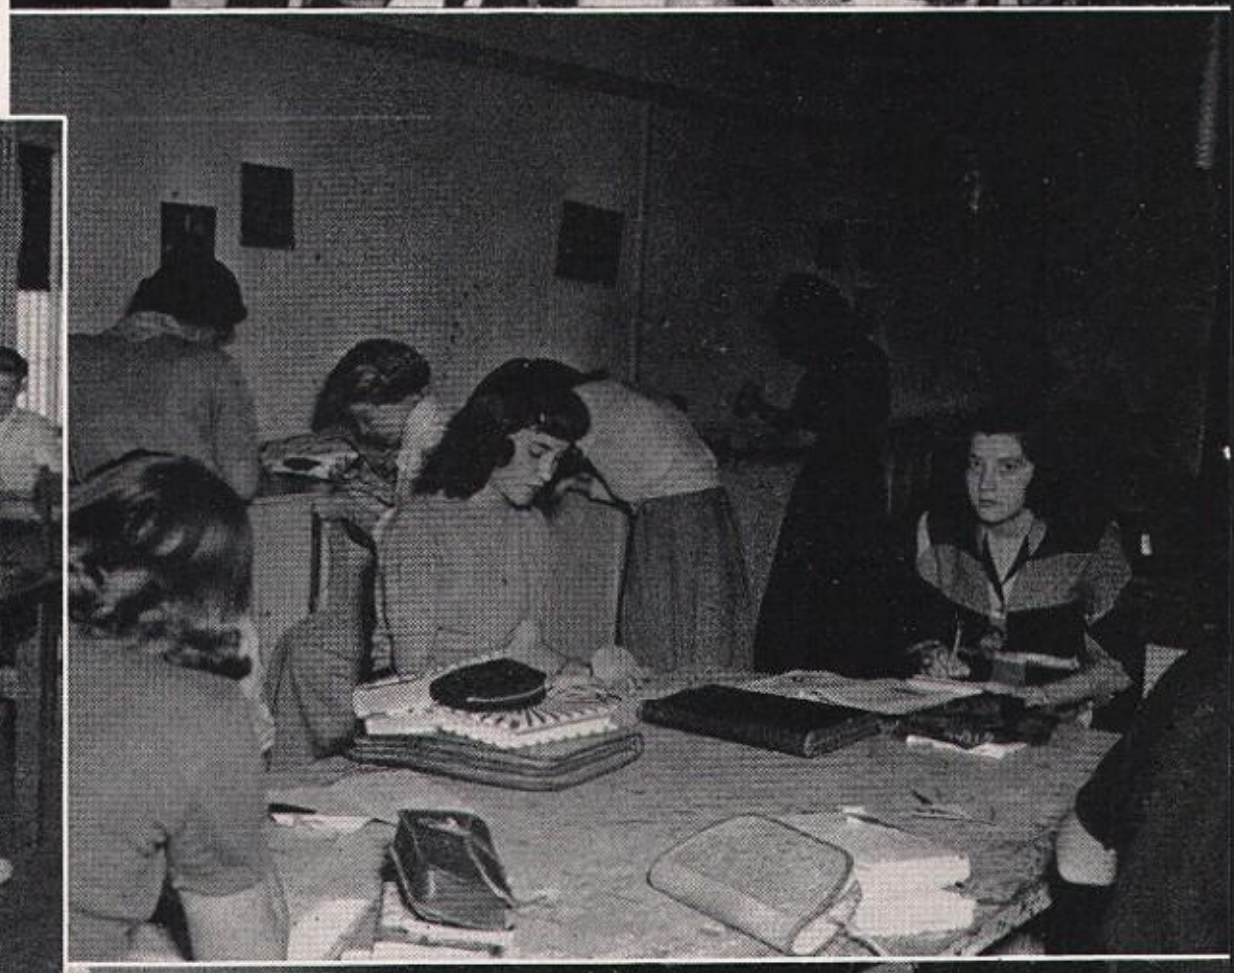


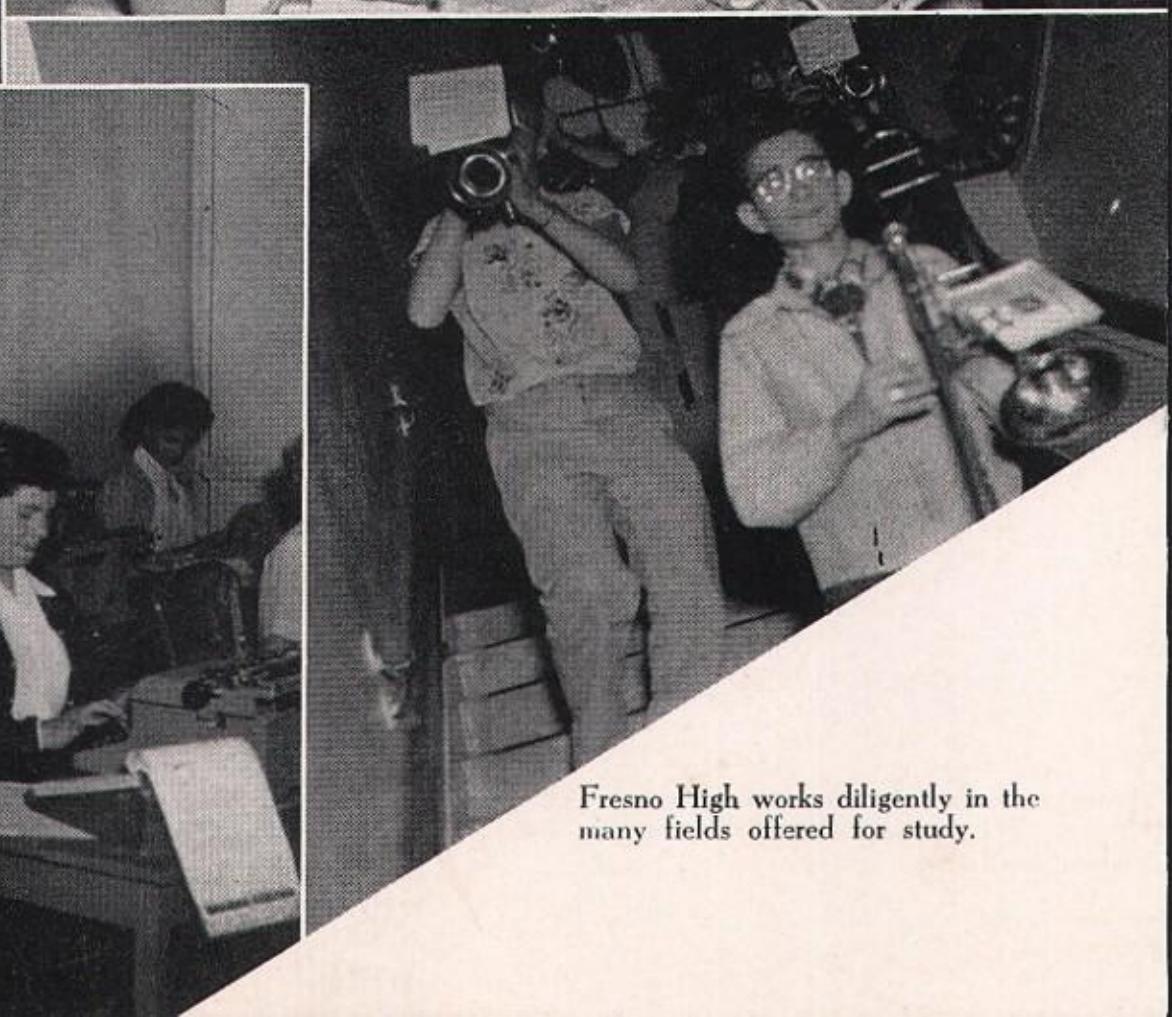


Spirit runs high before the Big-Little Game with Roosevelt. Coach Ginsburg is carried aloft the Warriors' shoulders after the final gun keeps the Little Brown Pig in Indian territory.

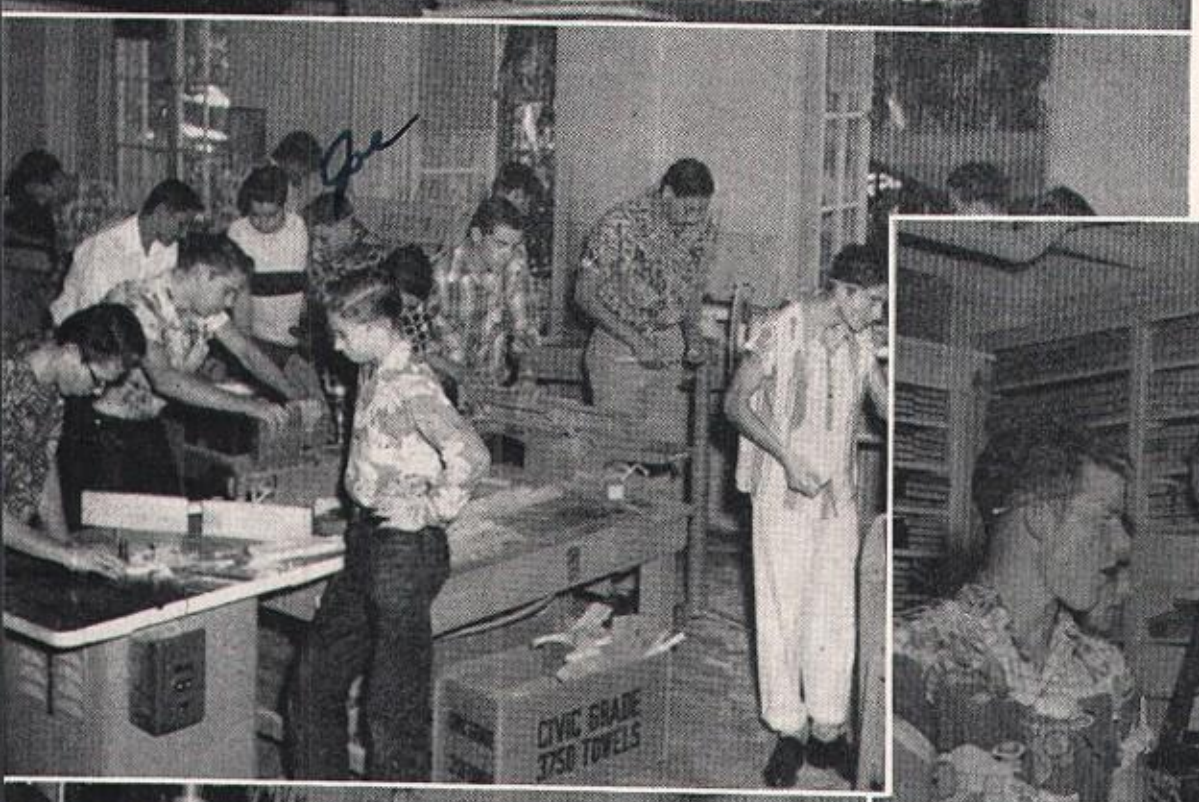


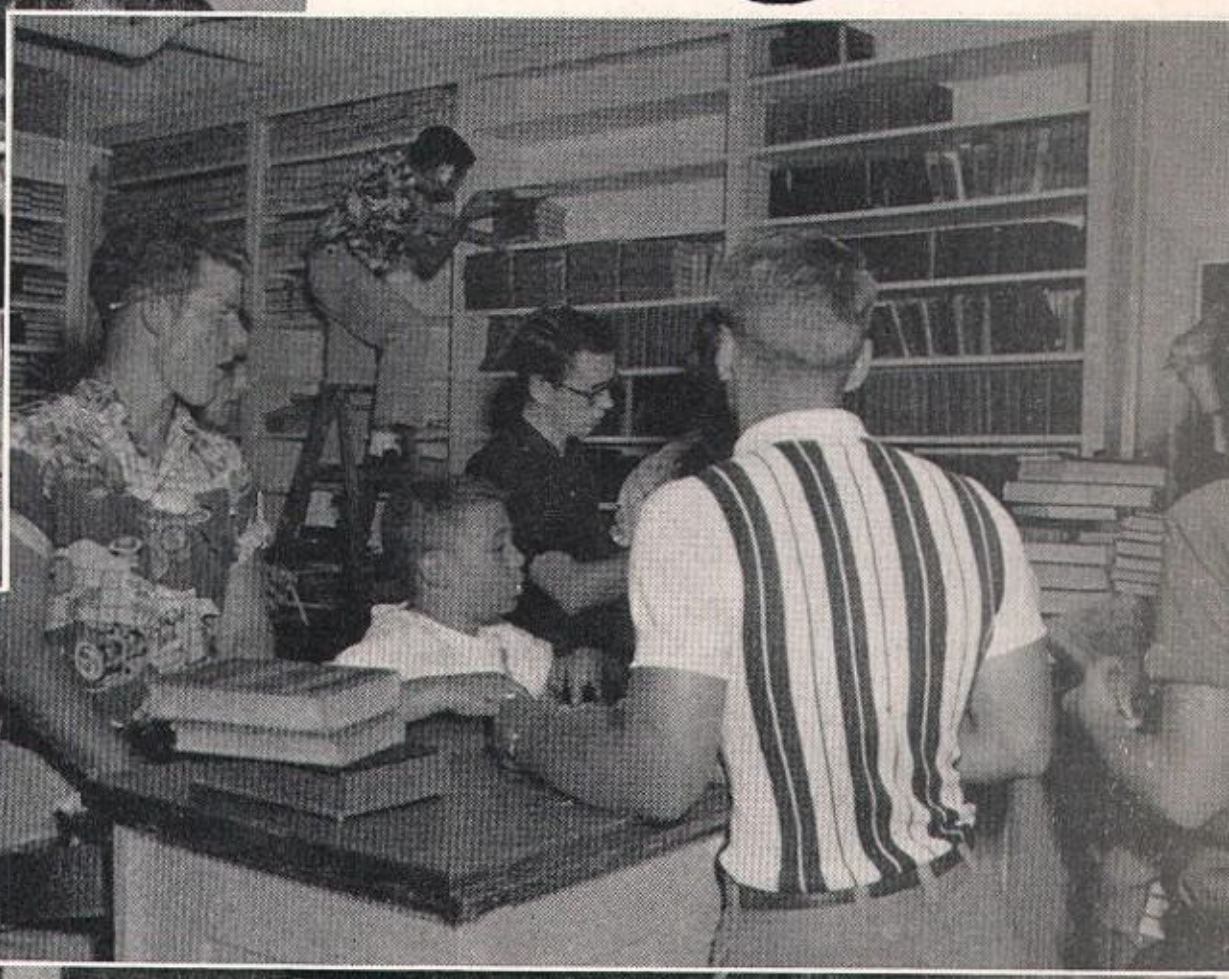
In the science department students study the human anatomy and work in the various laboratories.

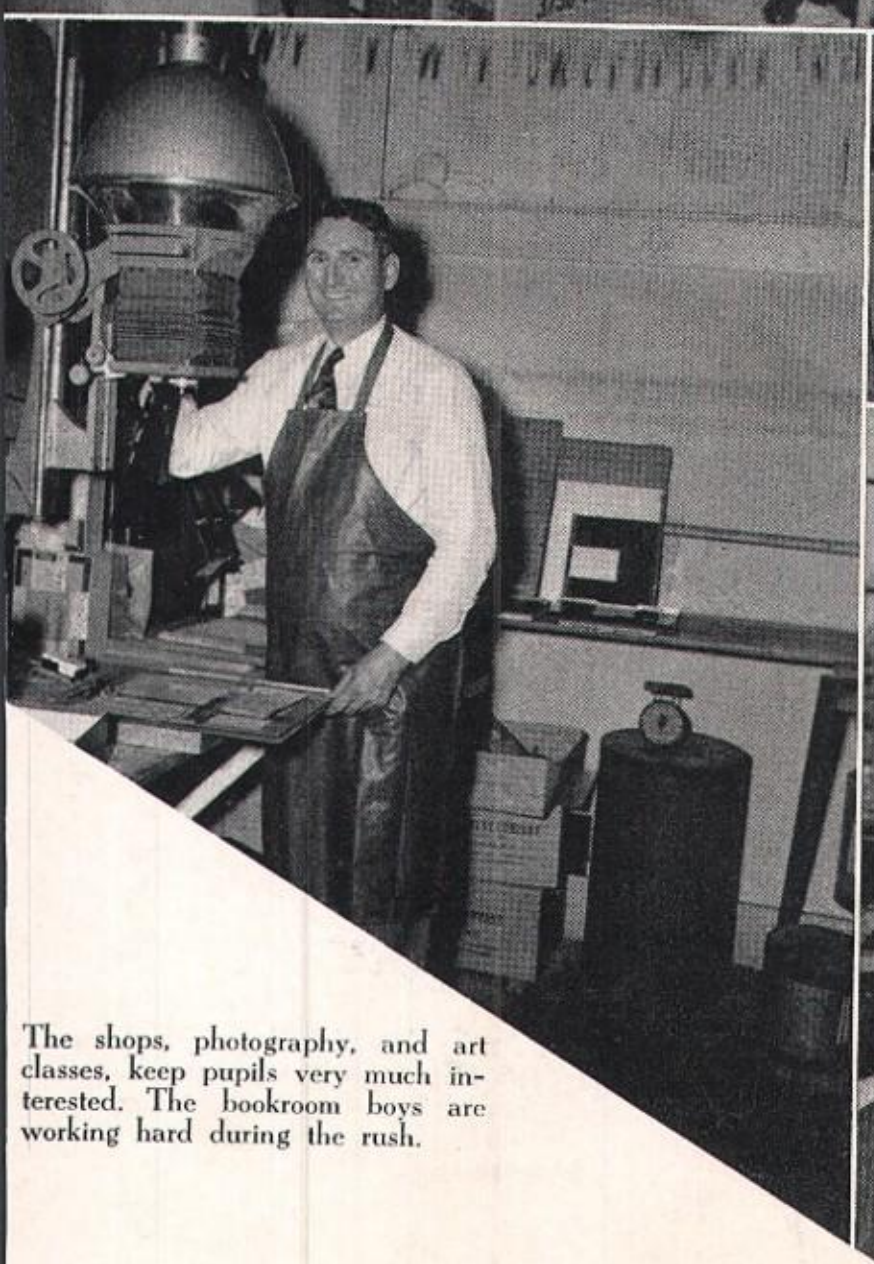




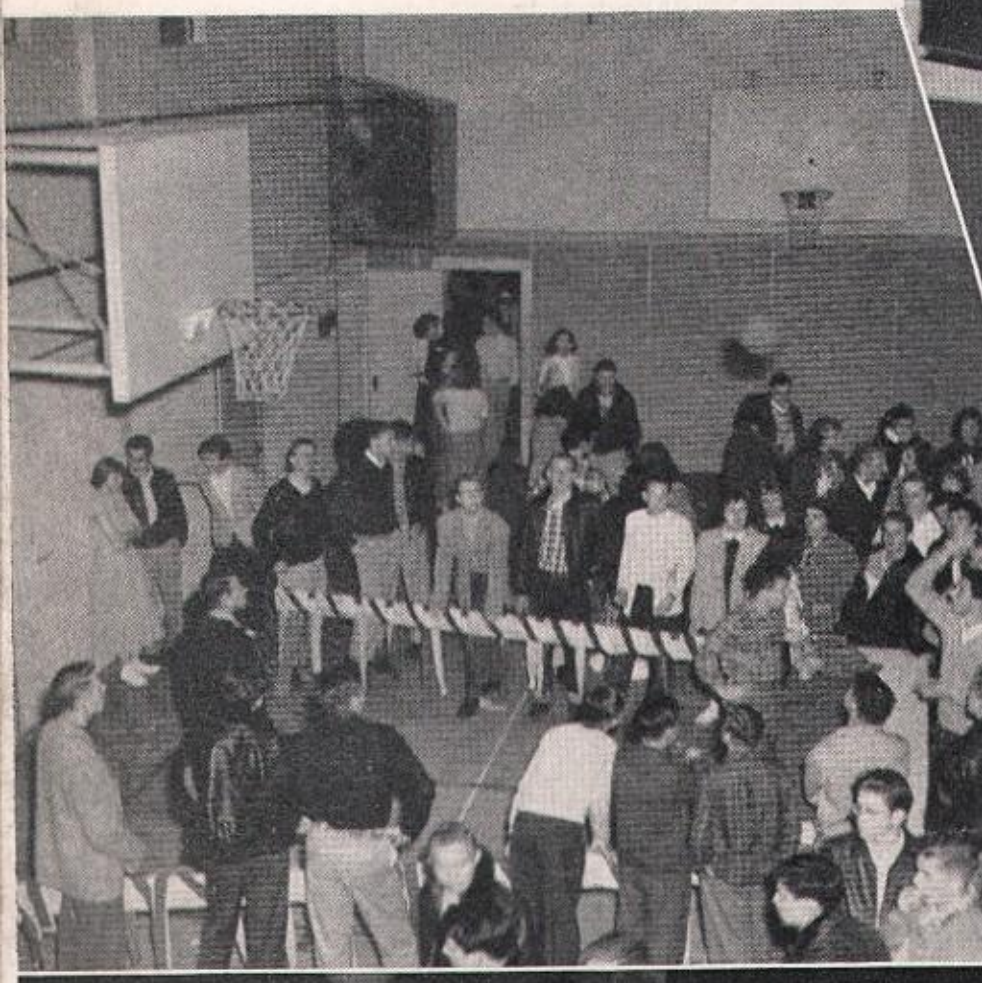
Fresno High works diligently in the many fields offered for study.

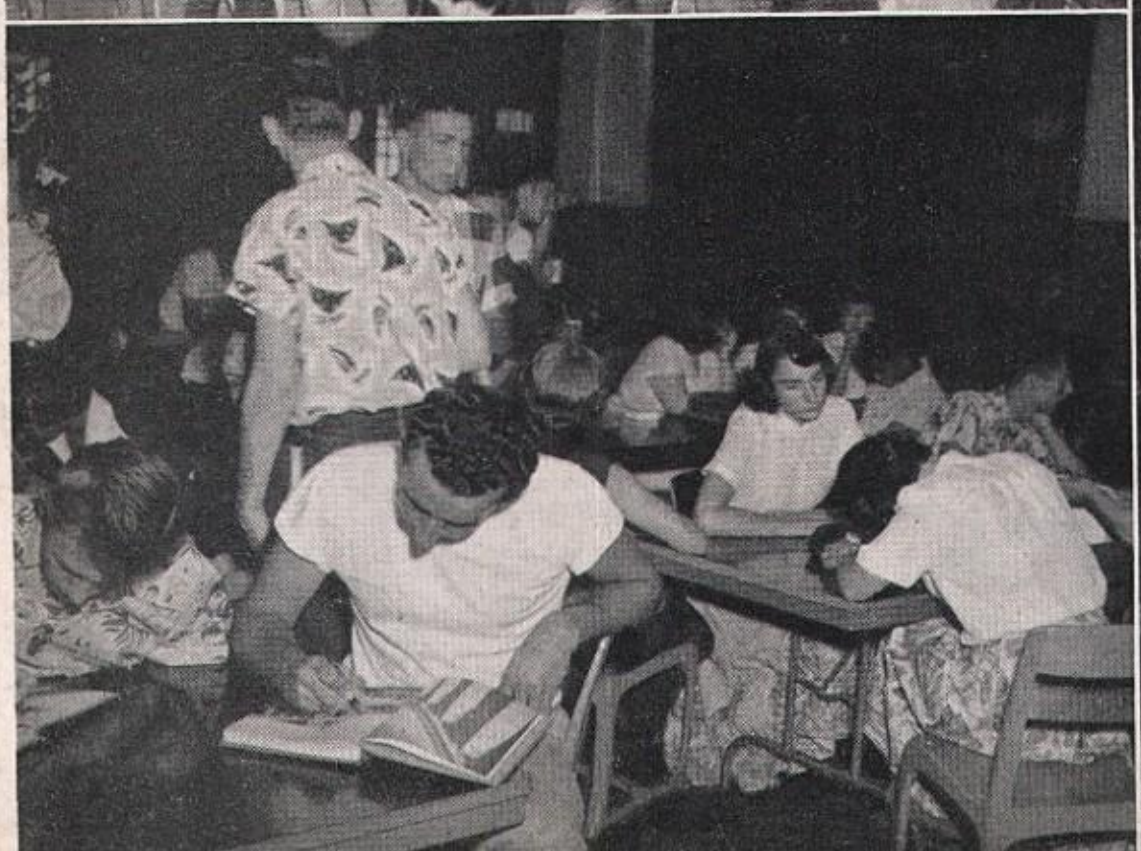


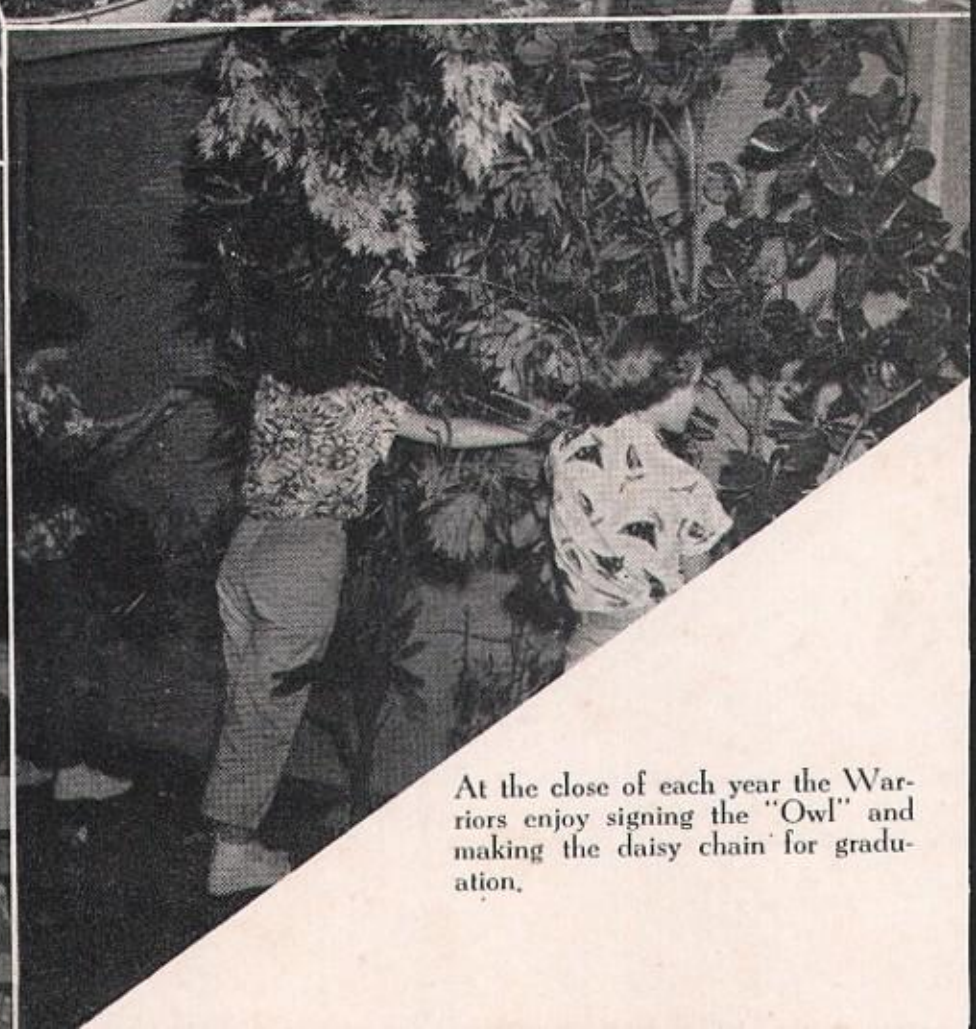




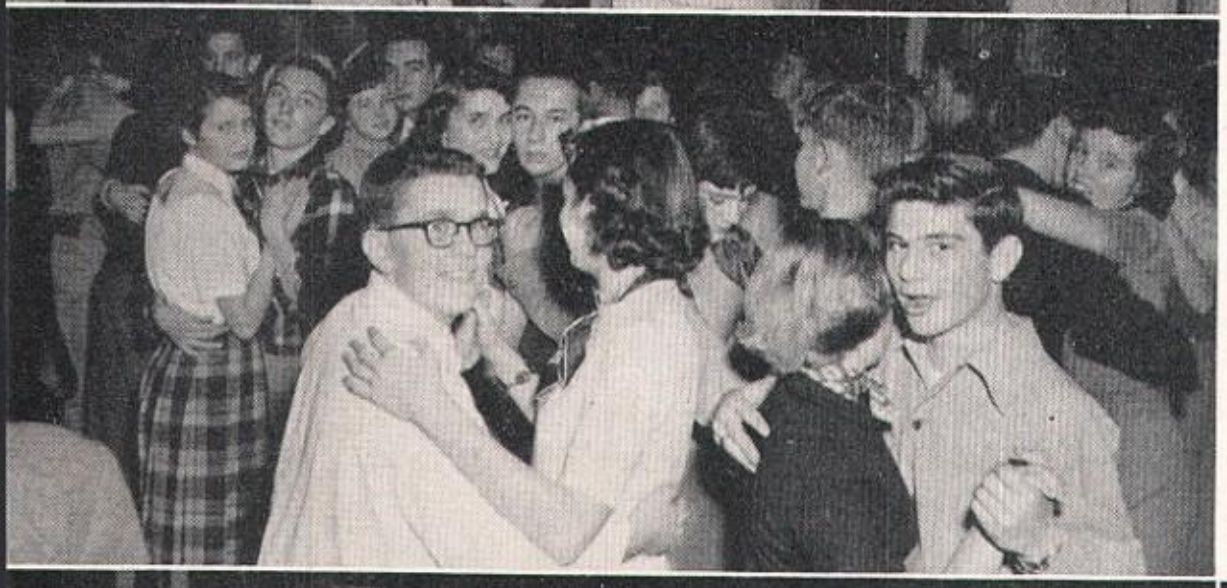
The shops, photography, and art classes, keep pupils very much interested. The bookroom boys are working hard during the rush.

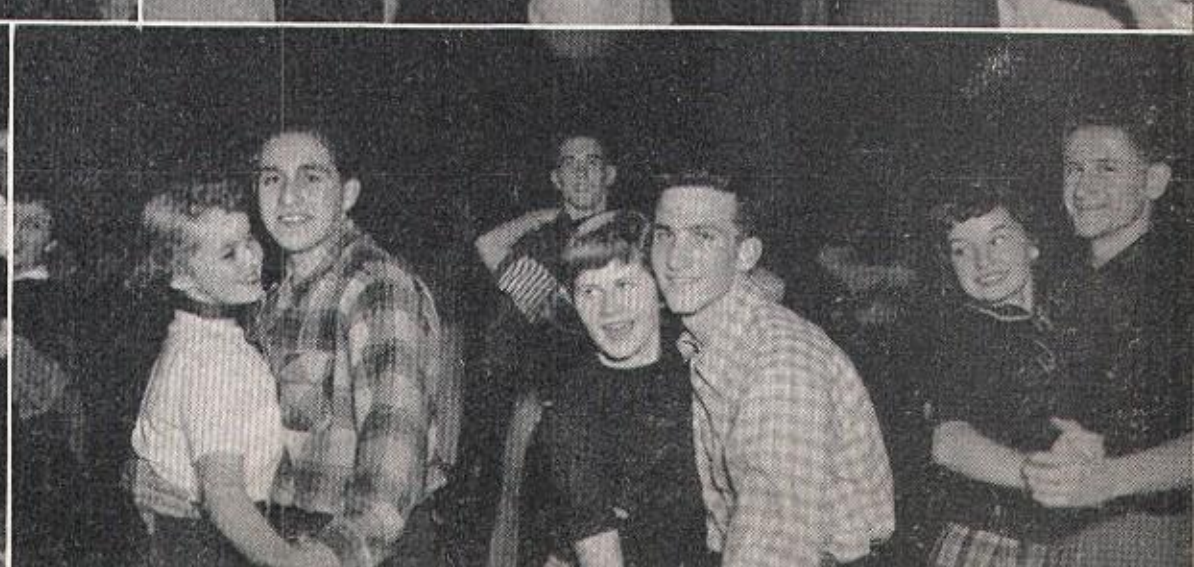




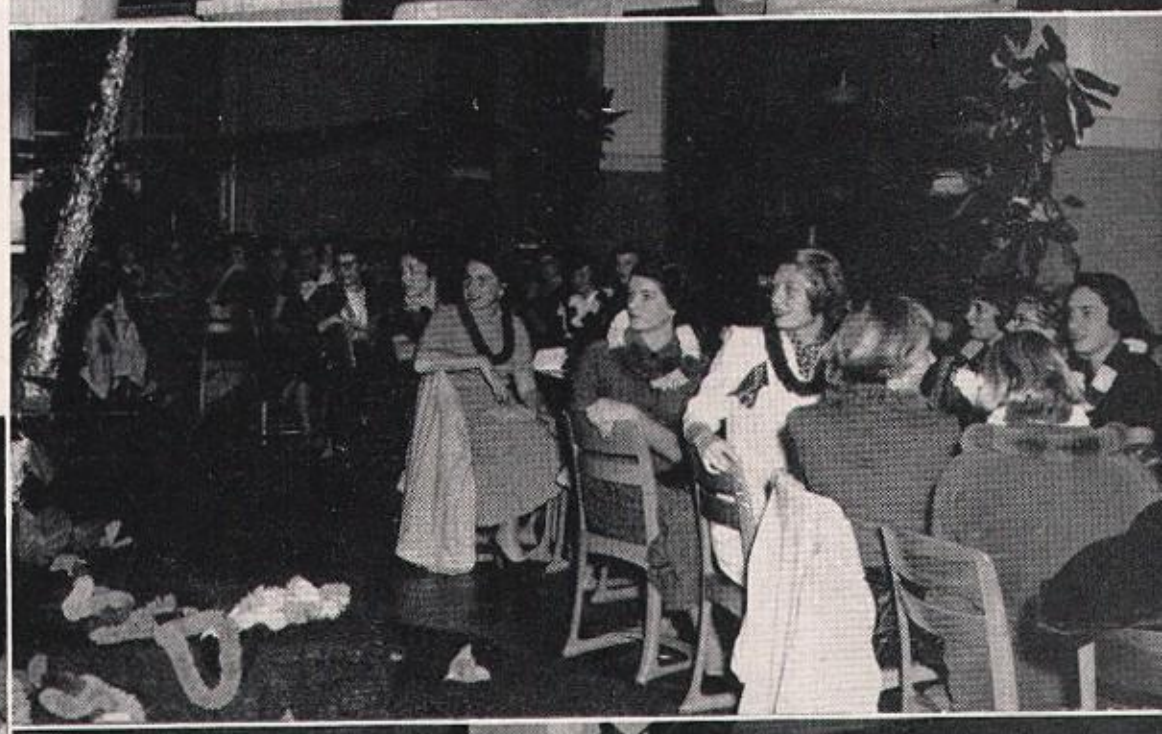


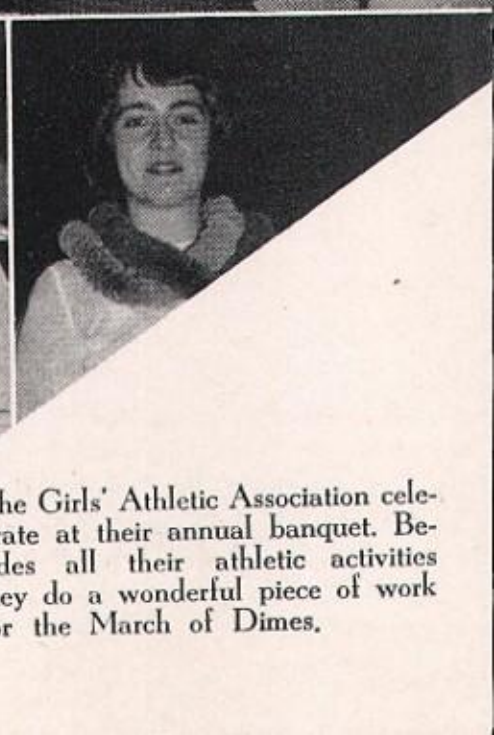
At the close of each year the Warriors enjoy signing the "Owl" and making the daisy chain for graduation.



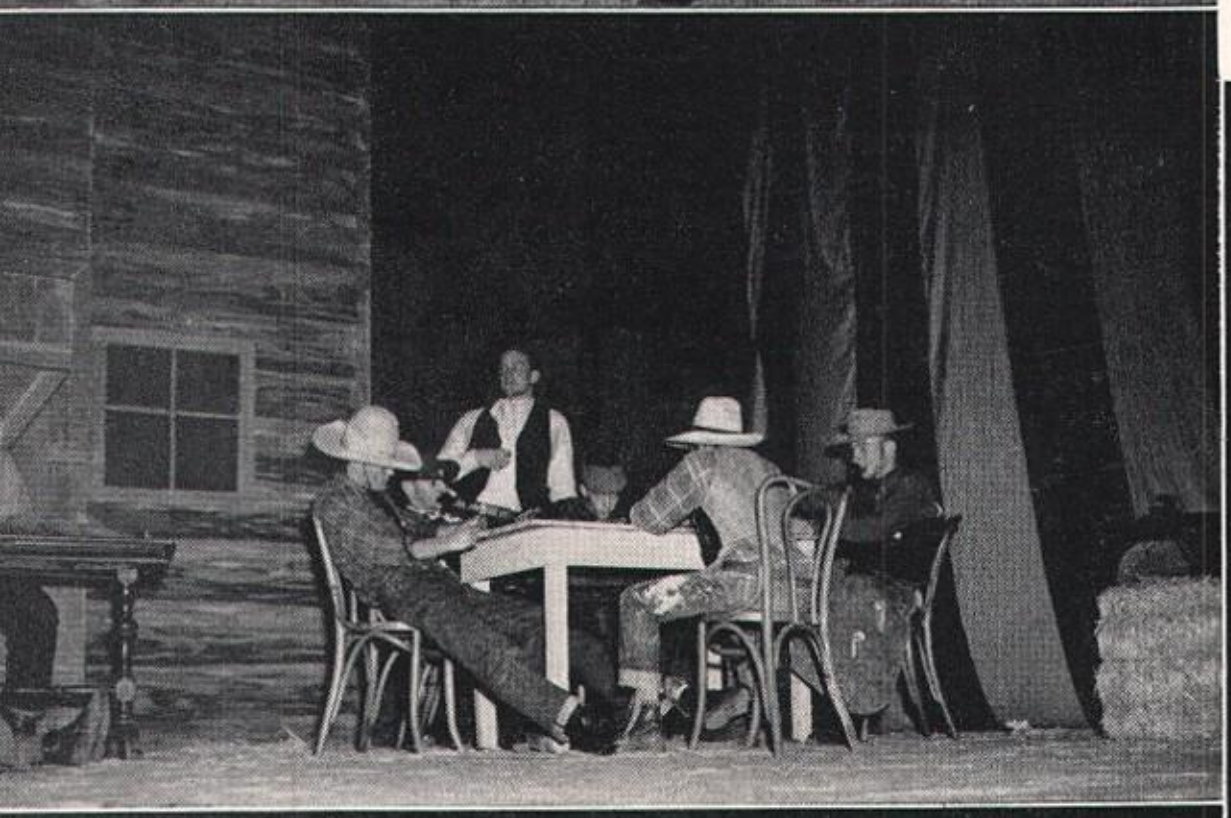


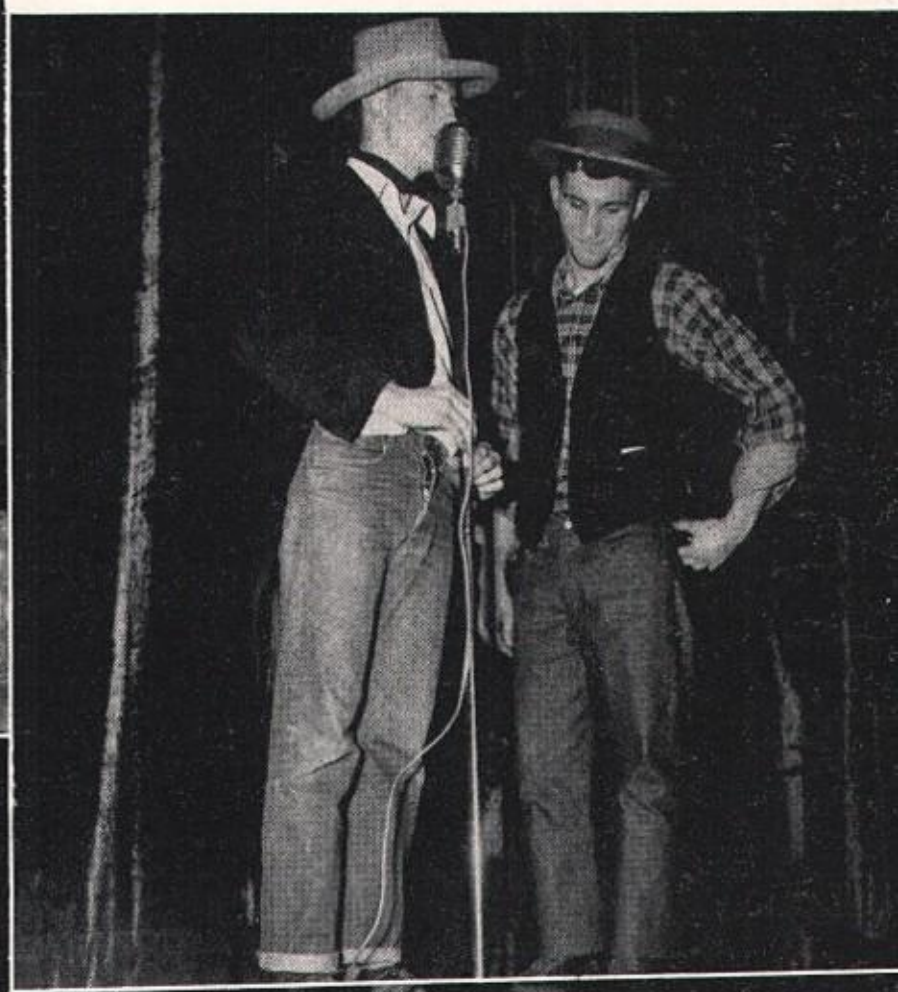
The freshmen entertain the student body at an informal dance. Everyone is having a gay evening.

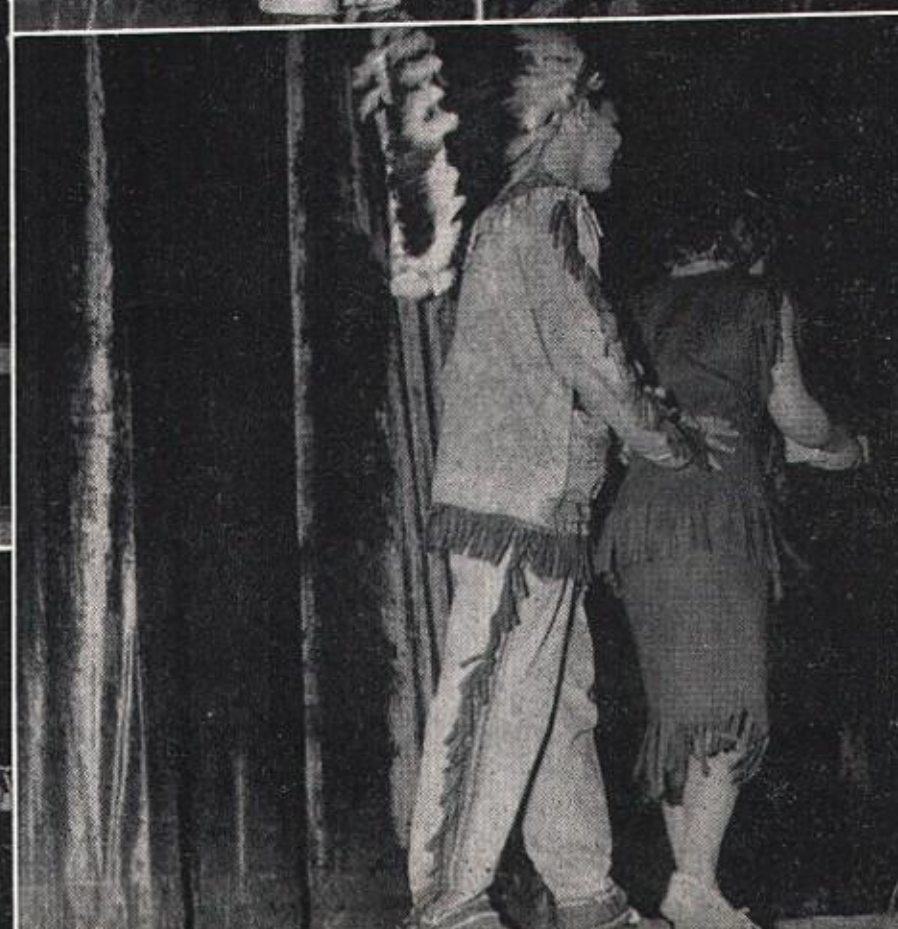


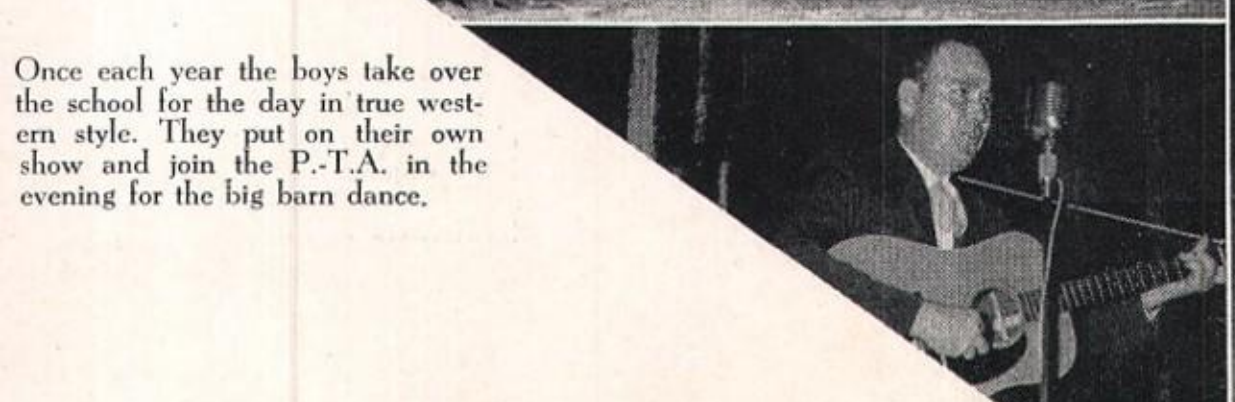


The Girls' Athletic Association celebrate at their annual banquet. Besides all their athletic activities they do a wonderful piece of work for the March of Dimes.

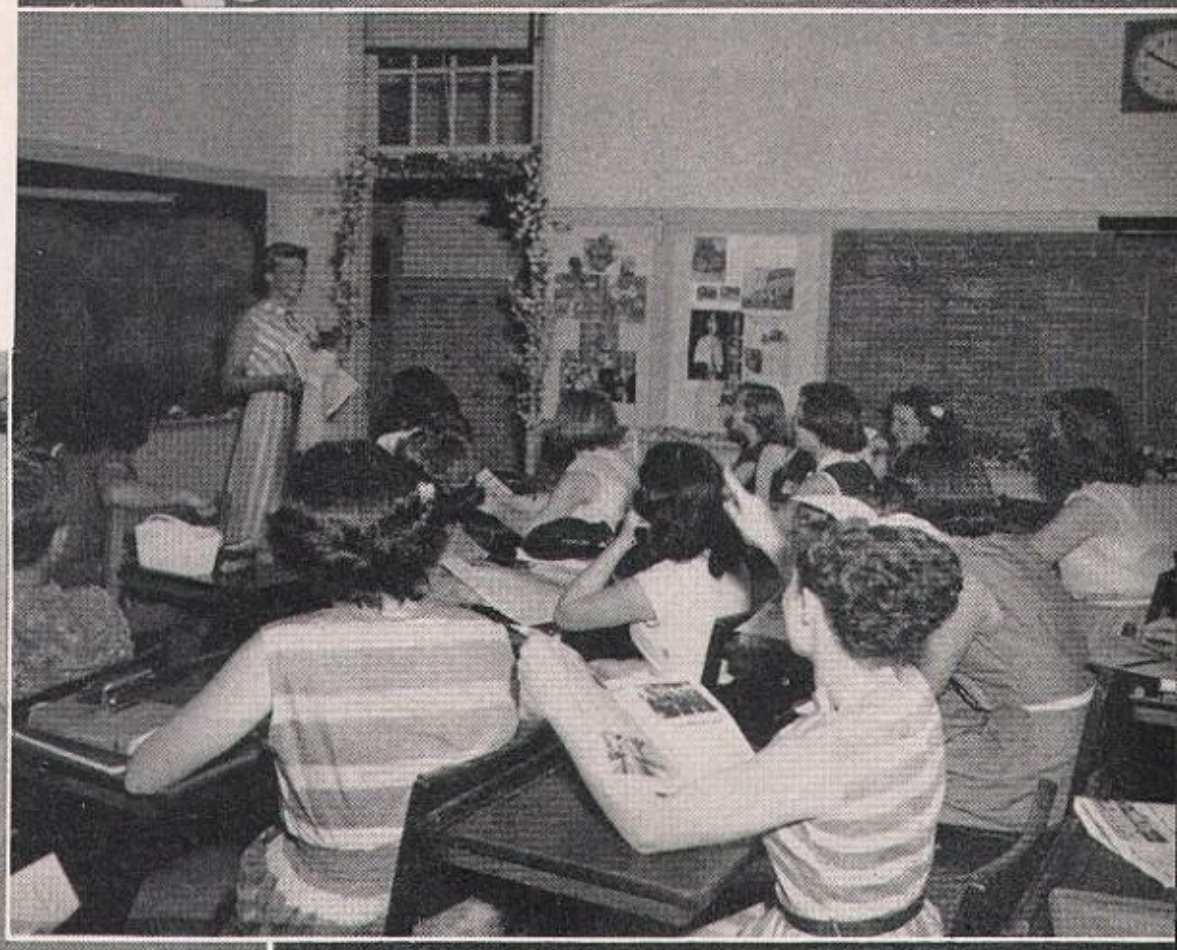


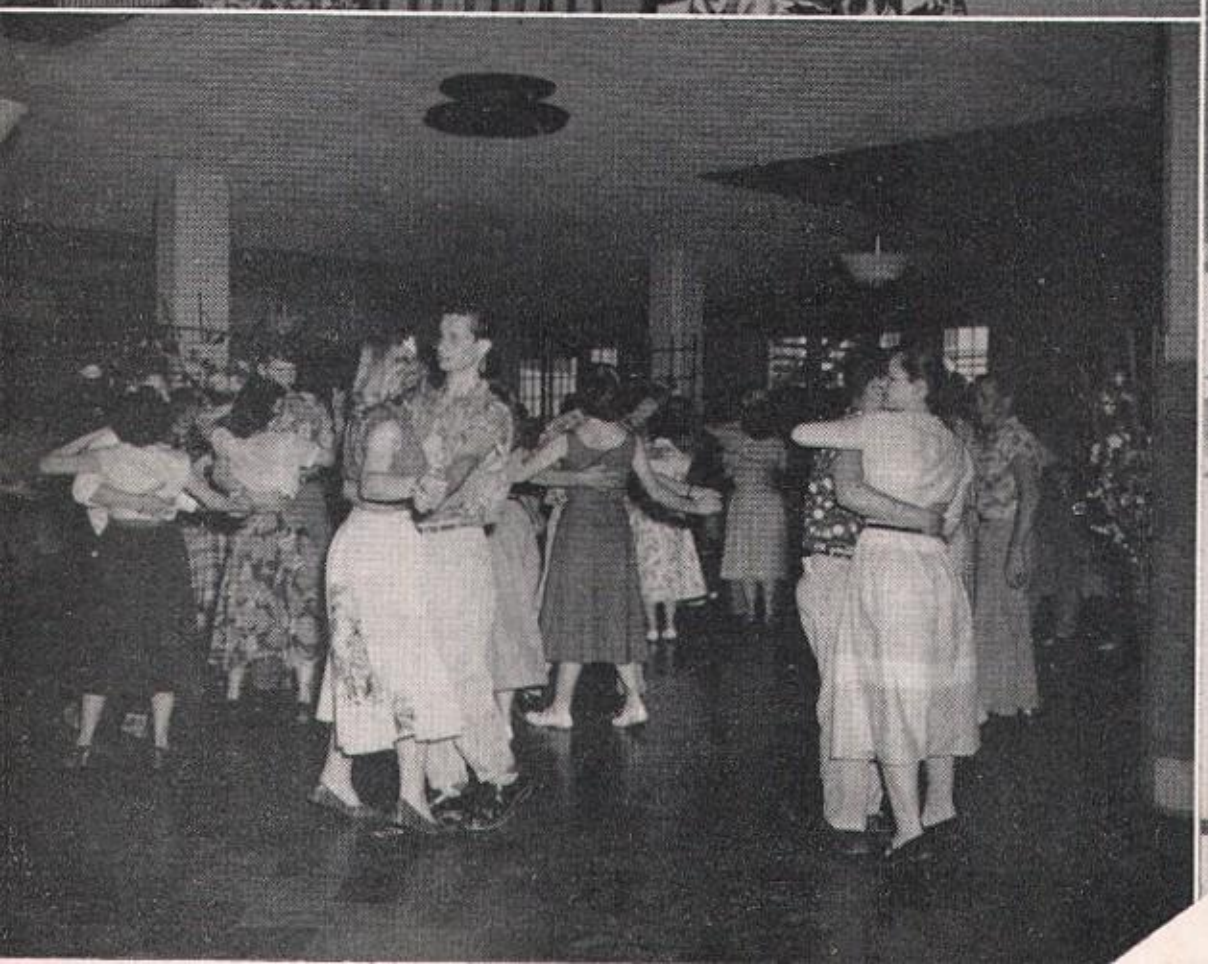


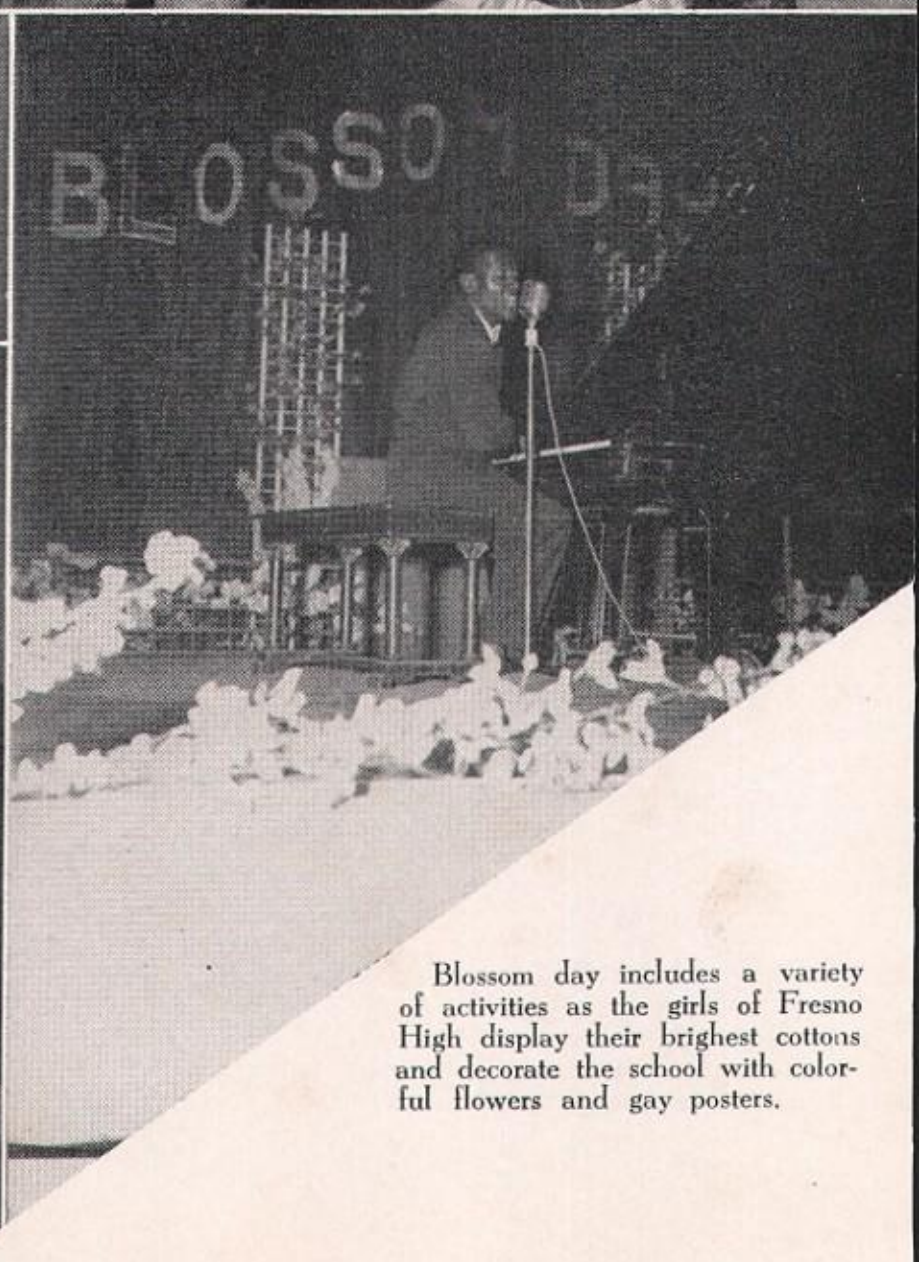




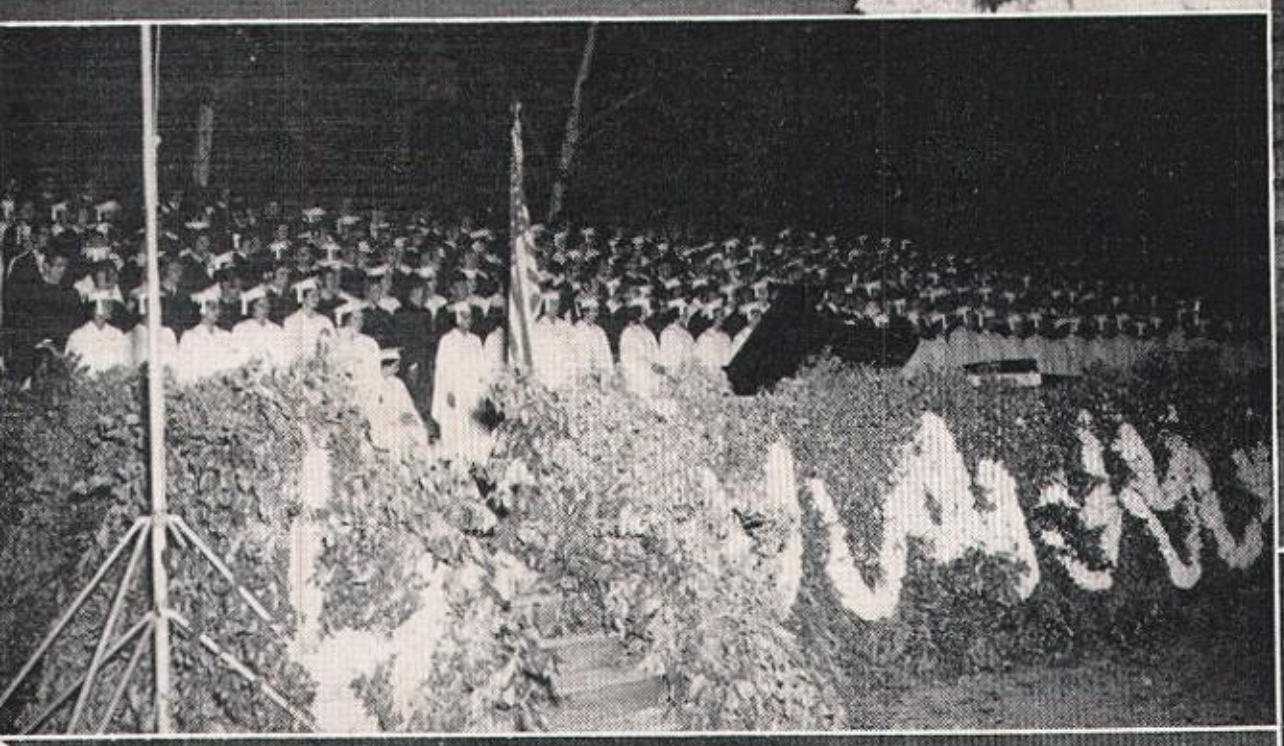
Once each year the boys take over the school for the day in true western style. They put on their own show and join the P.-T.A. in the evening for the big barn dance.

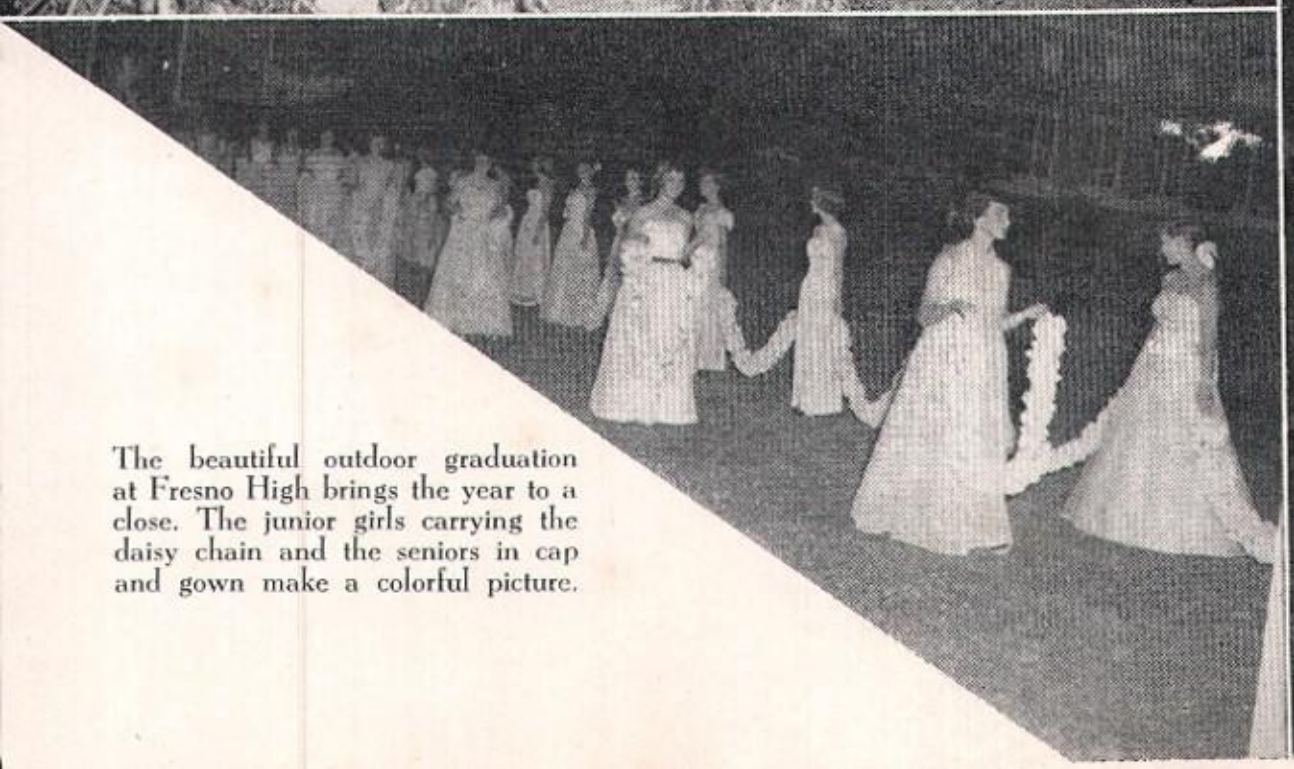


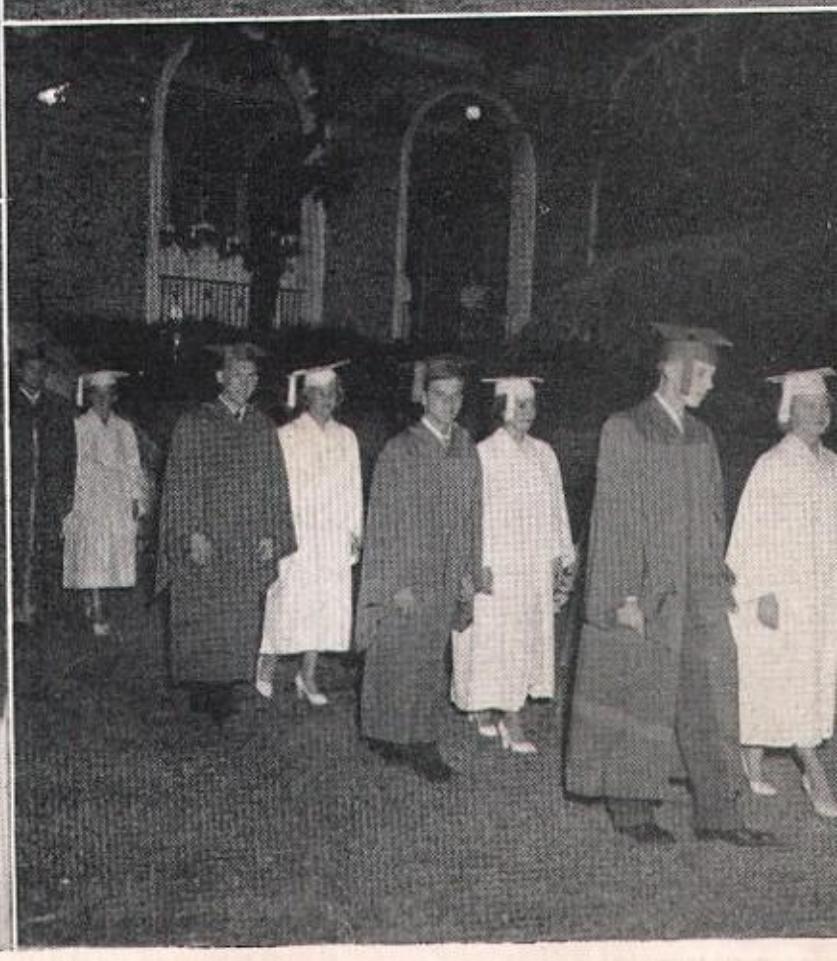




Blossom day includes a variety of activities as the girls of Fresno High display their brighest cottons and decorate the school with colorful flowers and gay posters.







The beautiful outdoor graduation at Fresno High brings the year to a close. The junior girls carrying the daisy chain and the seniors in cap and gown make a colorful picture.
